Combined in our labels.

Consumer and patient safety in focus: Labels meeting highest standards...

We have been producing high-quality product, safety and functional labels since our company was founded in 1936. This means that every label produced by LANGE AG is backed by many years of experience.

We are one of the leading label manufacturers, particularly in the pharmaceutical industry. We produce labels to the highest safety, hygiene and environmental standards. For your labels, our employees keep up to date with the latest technical standards and regular audits guarantee that we „stay fit“ and continuously improve our quality standards.

With high-quality products, reliability and customer-orientated services, we aim to ensure a long-term partnership with our costumers.

Cryogenic & autoclavable labels

Our labels for sterilisation set the right standards for the labelling of medical products. Developed for cryogenic applications and autoclaving systems, they meet the highest requirements for adhesion and survivability during the sterilisation process. Specially designed for very low temperatures, cryogenic labels ensure reliable labelling even under extreme conditions. Thanks to changes in colour, they also offer simple visual verification of the sterilisation process.

Leaflets

Who doesn't know the mystery that leaflets can never be folded up and put back into the box after opening? Well, Lange AG is one of the few companies that knows how! Our State-of-the-art equipment enables specific folding with exceptional precision. Packaged, banded or even sealed with an adhesive dot, your leaflets are checked by inline-cameras from start to finish.

Packaging

Our pharma packaging deliver highest quality combined with strict standards. Each folding box is produced under precise monitoring to meet the requirements of the industry. Our packaging not only enable your products to be stored safely, but also fulfil the highest standards of aesthetics and professionalism.

Our quality – Assuring product safety

We strive for excellence with every order we receive. Through process control in all areas of our company we guarantee repeatable quality, outstanding performance and short lead time.

Dedicated quality requirements for printed products are continuously fulfilled during receipt, manufacturing, storage and transportation. By strictly adhering to our defined processes, we achieve complete product safety.

LANGE hygiene management

For the sake of a spotless product, we have introduced a strict hygiene management in the production area. The hygiene concept is merely one reason why customers rely on our products for many years. From start to finish, we make no compromise to fulfil your requirements.

Our certifications

LANGE AG was the first label manufacturer in Switzerland to be certified according to the strict BRC/IoP hygiene standard. Nowadays, we are manufacturing according to GMP standards. Therefore, we are meeting the requirements of ISO 9001, ISO 15378 and FSSC 22000. Our corresponding compliance is confirmed on a regular basis by external specialists. LANGE AG has been FSC certified since mid-2025.

Product development & support

We are not afraid to take on new projects and design new products.

We accept your challenge and work with you to find an intelligent and customized solution for your label. Open dialogue and a customer-oriented mindset are essential for every new project. This has already enabled us to develop numerous products together with our customers and partners in the past. Come to us with your challenge or idea; we will develop your individual label for you.

High security solutions

Branded goods must be protected as they are a favourite target of counterfeiters. To prevent counterfeiting, we offer high-security solutions. We incorporate security features, according to project requirements. We produce under high-security conditions. To ensure secure storage, production and shipping, we offer vaults and security transportations. All measures are tailored according to your individual demand.

Backup

At LANGE, we understand that reliability and continuity are essential in the pharmaceutical sector. That is why we offer you not only high-quality products, but also the security of a dedicated backup supplier service. Our goal is to keep your production running seamlessly, even in unpredictable situations. With our backup supplier service, you can rest assured that your supply chain is always protected, so you can focus on your core business. We are looking forward to being your reliable partner!
